Company Info Session

Held twice a year, these events include the Spring Campus Talent Recruitment Sessions (March–May) and the Autumn Campus Talent Recruitment Sessions (September–October).

Dozens of leading companies are invited to host sessions tailored to students' needs. Company representatives come directly to campus to present industry insights, hiring criteria, and future workforce needs. These sessions provide students with a valuable opportunity to interact with professionals, understand job openings, and get a firsthand look at real-world expectations.

For companies, it's also a chance to build brand awareness and attract top talent. Students often gain early interview opportunities and valuable career advice directly through these sessions.

Career Fair

The Career Fair is the highlight of the Spring recruitment season (March-May), where over 100 companies are invited to campus to set up recruitment booths. This large-scale event serves as a platform for students to explore job opportunities, learn about industry trends, and even participate in on-site interviews with hiring managers.

Students not only gain direct access to company representatives and current job openings but also stay informed on the latest workplace developments—all without leaving campus. For many, the Career Fair is the gateway to landing their first job offer.

Tailored Campus Talent Recruitment Events

Customized Company Info Sessions

Companies can apply to host customized presentations based on their internal hiring schedules. These sessions allow companies to interact with students personally, clearly communicate job openings, company culture, and talent needs. Time is also set aside for Q&A and networking to improve the match between students and employers.

Special Recruitment Events

Through creative formats such as mobile experience trucks, coffee trucks, on-the-spot interviews, and interactive games, these events create engaging spaces for company-student interaction. Companies can effectively convey recruitment needs while students enjoy an approachable and dynamic job-seeking experience.

Mentorship Program

About the Program:

Each semester, NCU invites alumni and corporate professionals to serve as mentors. Through one-on-one sessions, students receive guidance on career planning, learn about company culture, gain real-world experience, and develop practical skills for future jobs.

Eligibility:

All NCU students are welcome to apply, no matter your year or department. If there are too many applicants, priority will go to graduate students and third- or fourth-year undergraduates.

Program Content:

1. Career interest exploration
2. Self-assessment and goal setting
3. Industry insights and company visits
4. Résumé and cover letter review
5. Mock interviews and job search tips
6. Project-based learning
7. Networking meals with mentors and peers

How to Apply:

Check the Career Center's Facebook page for deadlines and updates.

Register on the NCU Portal Activity Registration System.

Email your Mentor Matching Form and Application Form to the program coordinator.

One-on-One Industry Mentor Consultation

We invite experienced professionals, certified career consultants, and alumni to serve as industry mentors. They offer one-on-one consultations and support students in exploring workplace culture, building career skills, and preparing for employment.

Industry mentor consultation sessions are held monthly during the semester.

Industry Mentor Consultation Topics:

Personal career planning, résumé writing, interview techniques, overseas employment, innovation and entrepreneurship.

How to Register:

Monthly session announcements are posted on the NCU Career Center's Facebook page and the NCU Portal Activity Registration System. For individual appointment requests, please contact the program coordinator directly.

CPAS Career Assessment & 1-on-1 Counseling

The CPAS Career Aptitude Test is a personality-based assessment designed to help you understand your vocational preferences. It helps visualize your unique traits, uncover personal strengths, and identify suitable career fields.

In addition to the CPAS test, international students can utilize this service to explore topics such as finding a suitable job in Taiwan, reviewing their CV, developing interview skills, and adapting to the Taiwanese workplace culture.

Each session is one-on-one with a professional consultant and lasts for one full hour. Sessions are held monthly during the semester.

How to Register:

Registration details are posted monthly on the Career Center's Facebook page. Students can sign up through the NCU Portal Activity Registration System.

Core Competency Building

Succeeding in the workplace requires more than just specialized knowledge—it also involves cultivating essential soft skills and core competencies. The Career Center organizes annual career talks, company visits, and related events to help students explore industries early, expand their professional horizons, and build the abilities and attitudes necessary for future career success.

Career Talks

University life is a period of freedom and self-exploration. Learning extends beyond acquiring professional knowledge in the classroom; personal development and actively seeking opportunities to enhance one' s capabilities are essential to cultivating workplace competitiveness.

Annually, the Career Center organizes a series of career talks focusing on three core competencies: problem-solving, international mobility, and interdisciplinary integration. These sessions invite professionals from diverse industries to share career insights and industry trends, guiding students to reflect on questions such as:

" What do I truly want to pursue?

What potential do I possess?, and

Which career path aligns with my goals? "

For international students, these talks provide valuable insights into Taiwan's employment market and industrial environment. While working in Taiwan is one of many options, this initiative aims to equip international students with the knowledge and skills needed to make informed decisions about their career development, whether they choose to build their careers locally or abroad.

Company Site Visits

Each year, the Career Center organizes multiple Company Site Visits, giving students the chance to step outside the classroom and into real workplace settings.

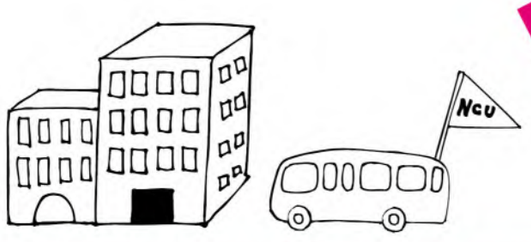
Through direct interaction with current employees, students gain a deeper understanding of daily operations, industry trends, and hiring expectations. These visits help students:

1. Observe corporate culture firsthand
2. Recognize in-demand skills and attributes
3. Define their personal career goals

Company Site Visits serve as a vital bridge between academic learning and professional development, helping students transition smoothly into the workforce.

How to Register:

Please stay updated with NCU Portal Activity Registration System.



3

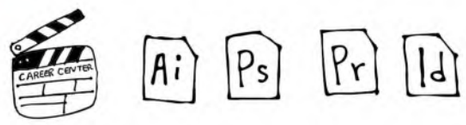
Showcasing Soft Skills for Career Success

Entering the workforce requires more than just academic knowledge—it also demands strong soft skills. Through opportunities like the Campus Recruitment Student Team and various career events, the Career Center helps students develop key workplace competencies, enhance communication and teamwork, and gain practical experience to better prepare for future careers.

Campus Talent Recruitment Team

Established in 2009, the Campus Recruitment Team is a student-run organization under the guidance of the Career Center. Structured into six divisions—Executive, PR, Secretariat, Marketing, Multimedia, and Design—the team operates like a matrix organization, emphasizing both vertical and horizontal coordination.

Through hands-on roles in event planning, corporate outreach, design, promotion, and logistics, students gain valuable hard and soft skills. The team serves as a bridge between students and industry, easing their transition into the workforce. Students from all departments are welcome to join and contribute their creativity to campus talent recruitment events.



Recruitment Information:

1. Open to all students; 30 elite members are needed.
2. Basic Mandarin communication
3. We welcome all kinds of talent! Whether you're passionate about event planning, creative and artistic, detail-oriented, or analytically strong
4. If you enjoy teamwork and want to grow your real-world skills, we invite you to join us!
5. For details, please visit the Career Center website.

Training Highlights:

1. Over NT$200,000 worth of training sessions focused on soft skills. Software classes include Adobe Creative Suite and Microsoft Office Suite. Practical workshops feature portrait photography, video production taught by industry directors, public speaking, résumé writing, and interview skills. Additional online courses tailored to team needs include layout design, video effects, and presentation design.
2. Hands-on guidance from the Career Center's campus talent recruitment coordinator—training in project management, software operation, visual aesthetics, communication, business etiquette, marketing proposals, and crisis management.

Team Benefits:

1. Completion certificate awarded for excellent performance and training participation—a valuable asset recognized by alumni in both local and international job interviews.
2. Service learning hours are credited upon full participation in training and event duties.
3. One to Three off-campus team-building retreats per cohort.
4. Meals are provided during team meetings, planning sessions, and events; one celebratory banquet is included.
5. Priority access to company visit opportunities.

How to Register:

Log in to the NCU Portal Activity Registration System and apply between March and April each year.

Career-Ready Training

To build a solid foundation for future career development, students must cultivate both professional knowledge and soft skills during their academic journey. But landing a great job isn't just about personal ability—it also requires the right opportunities and exposure. That's where the job search pathway becomes especially important.

To help students get a head start, the Career Center hosts Spring and Autumn Campus Talent Recruitment Events each year. By inviting well-known companies to campus for company info sessions, career fairs, and company visits, students can explore job market expectations and prepare competitive résumés while still in school, taking early steps toward their dream careers.

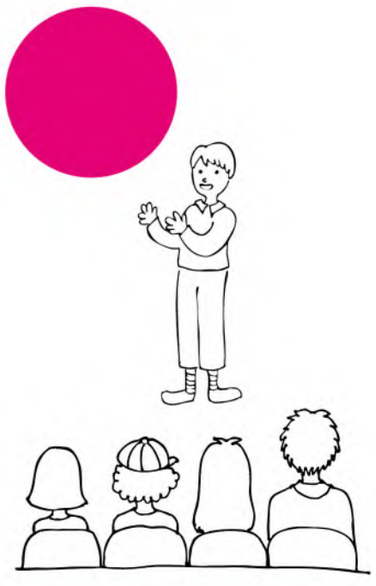
Internship Matchmaking Sessions / Company Internship Info Sessions

Held periodically each semester, these sessions aim to help students gain early exposure to the workplace. Both public-sector internship program briefings and company recruitment visits are offered, allowing students to understand career expectations and sometimes even secure interviews directly during the session.

Off-Campus Internship Program

The Career Center coordinates the university-wide Off-Campus Internship Program, setting clear policies and partner institution standards to protect student rights and ensure a valuable internship experience.

The program's goals are to help students:

1. Gain real-world experience
2. Better understanding of the workplace environment
3. Enhance employability


At the same time, it enables companies to connect with emerging talent and align university training with industry demands—ensuring that graduates are truly job-ready.
